Where Can I Find Dates

A complete guide on how to find your perfect match

Prepared by: Relationship Advice for Success

Introduction

The purpose of our match system is to help you learn what it takes to be your own matchmaker. You are unique, with unique dating and relationship needs. There is not one person like you on this planet. We will help you put together a match that is just for you.

All online match companies use a standardized questionnaire for all their patrons. The problem with that is, you are special. You are not like everyone else. For example, if you are a man looking for a match, your needs are not the same as every other man looking for a match. This means generalized questionnaires will not work for you.

Did you know that one out of every eight relationships is a result of people meeting through a match?

Personalized Questionnaire

Where Can I Find Dates

Personalize match

To help their patrons find the right match, match companies use a standardized questionnaire for all of them. We believe that a standard questionnaire with answers to choose from has too many flaws and should not be used for everyone, since different people have different needs.

So what we have decided to do is to help you as an individual to put together your own match questionnaire, aided by sample questions and following specific steps. Please use the sample below to customize your match.

IMPORTANT NOTE

While the idea behind match systems is to help you find someone who has the same or similar things in common with you, this can benefit you sometimes. There are other times when you will need someone with the opposite personality and qualities as you. This is the reason why generalized match systems have a ninety-five percent failure rate. They don't recognize that two people with strong personalities are not a match for each other because they will continue to crash heads. Thus, the right match for a person with a very strong personality is someone humble and patient, or someone with a high tolerance level.

USER'S INSTRUCTIONS

Congratulations on acquiring this manual about how you can find your personalized match.

Please read the instructions carefully as your success depends on how you use the information. We care about you. We want you to succeed and find what you are looking for.

We recommend that you use all the match systems that we have developed in conjunction with the one we will help you to create together. This will increase the chance for your success.

It is important that when you meet someone, you do not tell the person about your personality. Sometimes, when people know this, they may tell you they have the same personality, just to get what they want from you. Our responsibility is to help you create a customized match system just for you.....

Level Three Match

If you take nothing at all from this match system, please take this one-Level Three Match. What is level three match? In business, the top and highly successful companies are considered or referred to as Level Three Companies. This is because they have sets of guidelines, requirements, and standards to help them not to be merely successful, but rather very successful. They achieve success by hiring only people who are heading in the same direction as the company is going. REMEMBER THAT STATEMENT, PLEASE.

We recommends that to put together your level three match, you have to make a decision on what you hope to achieve or where you are heading by seeking a perfect match. When you know that, then you want to find someone who is heading in the same direction as you. This is known as LIKE MINDED. For example, maybe you want to find someone whom you hope to marry later. This means you want to find a match who is heading in the same direction or who can help you get to where you are going. Here is why. I am sharing this with you because I hear it from clients all the time. They are looking for lasting love, but settle for casual sexual encounters. After becoming sexual, and the other person leaves, the person looking for lasting love becomes offended.

In the space below, write out where you are heading or what you want out of the love relationship you wish to find

Inter-Cultural Similarity Match

This is similar to interracial match, but not the same. For example, Mexicans, Spaniards, and Columbian Spanish-speaking people are not all the same. However, these cultures have much in common (e.g., the lifestyle of the people, the environment they come from, their values and so forth). Another example is that many Philippine women seem to marry West African men. While they are interracial, there is something they have in common, and that is cultural similarities and beliefs. If you find that your culture has something in common with another culture, consider the similarities as a match and seek love from that culture. Because of that, many West African black men and Philippine women now living in North America are becoming couples, and their relationships are working really well. We say that because you will feel as though you are married to someone from your own race. In the space below, please identify the culture that you have the most in common with. In addition, list what you find in common between your culture and the other culture, and use it as a base to find a match with a person from another culture to whom you are attracted.

Are you highly emotionally driven? By this we mean when someone says something that you take offense to, do you respond in a verbally attacking manner? If you answer yes, what sort of person would be the right match for you? Write out your answer below.

What are your weaknesses in a relationship? These are things that you are not good at that could make your significant other unhappy with you. The secret is to find a match who will help you strengthen your weakness. It is not about finding a match who has the same or similar weaknesses as you.

In the space allotted, please make a list of things that you feel are your strengths.

How do you think you can use these strengths to help you find a match? Here is a coaching secret for you. Laura and Tim were out for coffee on a date. Tim told Laura that he attended counselling school. Laura told Tim that he would be a good man to have. Tim used his strength to market himself.

How can you use your weaknesses to market yourself? For example, if you were Laura and had a weakness for, say, making negative remarks about your men that causes them to leave, how can you sell the weakness and benefit from it?

If I were Laura, I would find a match with patience and understanding who could help me overcome my weaknesses. It has been our experience that negative people do very well with lovers who help them become the opposite. Here is an example of a counselling session I did with a client. She had been hurt in the past and began to insult men. She referred to men as wanting sex, a waste of time, and stupid. I responded by asking her if she found a man who gave her what she wanted — a man who would do the opposite of what other men had done to her — would she accept him? My client said absolutely and in fact, that is what she is looking for.

CORE VALUES

Do you have core values? Perhaps, you believe that there is a higher power. Or you believe that human beings have enormous value, and should be loved and revered. Please list them in the space below. Because your core values define who you are, you must find a match who has the same or similar core values. Your relationship will fail if the two of you have different values. At the least, you will be frustrated all the time.

COACHING

There are three steps to successful matching.

1. First, look for something you have in common with a match. Ideally, it would be good if you and the person have at least sixty percent of your personality qualities in common. No match can give you one hundred percent of what you are looking for.
- 2.

Where Can I Find Dates

Personalize match

As we explained, sometimes you do not want every personality quality to match. Find the opposite of a specific personality or quality; for example, if you are sensitive or even aggressive, you want someone who is kind, patient, and gentle.

3. Last, when you have found a match, it does not mean the person will stay with you forever or as long as you both want. This happens when things such as fighting, lying, cheating, or verbal attacks occur between the two of you. Naturally, when you have found a match, now you have to do your part to hold on to the relationship.

INTUITIVE DECISION-MAKING: I am about to tell you something that is one of the most profound things you will ever read. I have heard intuition referred to as higher thinking. Almost all top executives, top CEOs, make intuitive decisions. I was recently watching a presentation by Howard Schultz (CEO) of that famous coffee company STARBUCKS. He said that he made a certain decision to help make STARBUCKS successful, but other CEOs thought he was wrong. That decision is what he refers to as LOVE. Wall Street objected to his decision because, according to him, Wall Street makes their decisions based on profits.

What he said that we want you to learn from is, when he made a decision to train his staff to love, and other CEOs and Wall Street objected, he instinctively knew that his decision was right and anyone who opposed him was wrong. Sure enough, he was able to make Starbucks richer and expand it all over. We want you to learn that when you meet a match and make an intuitive decision, stick to it.
